Hawaiian Electric Company.

The cleanest, brightest safest and really, in the long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe; nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks."

This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light.

Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.

the heat of the day on a small nutritous grass which the June and July rains produced. On Wednesday about 200 rice birds appeared in the algaroba trees. The birds swooped down and picked away at the grubs at a lively The eaterpillars disappeared in three days.

The endownment fund of Christ Church, South Kona, is now about $2700. Rev. Mr. Davis is trying hard to increase this sum to $5000. Besides contributions in money, the church-wardens will received cancelled Hawalian stamps, fancy work, curios, or anything which will bring a ready sale for cash. The expenses of the church have so far come from England, and it is hoped that now, when Kona is becoming prosperous on account of the success of coffee culture, the congregation will soon be able to main-tain itself, if the endowment fund car be increased to about $5000. Dr. Atcherley is having a house built above Kailua, near the upper road, in the neighborhood of Dr. McWayne. A large number of Japanese men from Hilo and Hamakua are in Kona ceking work in the coffee fields.

SPOILED BY SCOTT.

The Plan That Was to Establish a Dietatorship In Mexico. It may surprise many readers to learn that overtures were made to General Scott by many Mexicans of position, and by many American officers, to permanently occupy Mexico and organize a new government. The scheme proposed to General Scott was, in substance, this: It was supposed that upon the conclusion of a treaty of peace at least three-fourths of the American army would be discharged, and that a large portion of the officers would resign, and, with many of the men, would enter the new army of Mexico, and enough oth ers could be recruited in the United States to make the American configent 15,000 strong, and to this might be added a like number of Mexican soldiers. With such an army it was suggested that Mexico could be held and governed in an orderly way and prosperity might be assured.

The plan centemplated a pronuncia mento, in which General Scott should do clare himself dictator of the republic for a term of five years or more, to give time for agitators to acquire pacific habits and to learn to govern themselves and to re-spect an orderly government, where the rights of property were not only respected, but fully protected.

Already in possession of the forts, ar-senals, foundries, cities, mines and ports of entry, with nearly all the arms, it was not doubted that a very general acquiescence would follow.

Grant was invited to several conclaves of officers, but from the first emphatically declined to enter into the plot. He did not purpose to change his allegiance or his service or his flag, but meant, he said, to return with the Fourth regiment to the United States.

He had several reasons for this determithinker and was endowed with a remarkably high sense of justice, and he had genuine contempt for any adventure which had any flavor of dishonesty or had faith about it, and he would not consider for a nothing better for producing government over Mexico while the nation was dominated by superior force. Had still another consideration been needed to influence his course—as was not the case, however-there was one most persuasive consideration-his prospective bride awaiting his return at her White Haven home, near Jefferson Barracks,

General Scott declined to enter into the plot, and it was finally abandoned.—Midland Monthly.

DIARRHOEA.

In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhoea. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors with-out any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlain's Cholera and Diar rhoea Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50-cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully, HENRY STEINBERGER, Allentown, Pa. Popular Malt Nutrine

The sale of MALT NU-TRINE during the month of July was enormous and by far exceeded our expectation. Still when it is compared with all other preparations of Malt and the many advantages it possesses over them one cannot fail to appreciate the fact that MALT MUTRINE is the best.

Makes

In this climate you need a preparation that builds blood and fattens without the stimulating effect produced by alcoholic beverages.

MALT NUTRINE might properly be termed non-alcoholic, as it contains less than 2 per cent of alcohol.

People

Those pains so commonly felt about the different parts of the body without any aport cause are generally due to a run-down state of the health. The physical forces need toning up, and there is moment the project of placing an alien the desired effect than a four weeks' treatment of MALT NUTRINE.

Well. Nursing mothers and the most delicate persons will find in MALT NUTRINE a friend indeed. Take MALT NUTRINE and no other. Price per case, $3 50.
